

Q. What type of euthanasia is performed because the patient has asked for it?

A. Voluntary euthanasia

Q. If a doctor gives a patient pain-killing drugs, knowing that the drugs will kill the patient, what type of euthanasia are they carrying out?

A. Active euthanasia

Q. If a doctor gives a pain-killing drug, but does nothing to save a patient, what type of euthanasia are they carrying out?

A. Passive euthanasia

Q. What type of euthanasia is performed because the patient has asked for it?

A. Voluntary euthanasia

Q. If a doctor gives a patient pain-killing drugs, knowing that the drugs will kill the patient, what type of euthanasia are they carrying out?

A. Active euthanasia

Q. If a doctor gives a pain-killing drug, but does nothing to save a patient, what type of euthanasia are they carrying out?

A. Passive euthanasia

Q. What type of euthanasia could be performed because a person has a certain illness or has reached a certain age?

A. Compulsory euthanasia

Q. What term is used when a coma patient's life support machine is switched off?

A. Involuntary euthanasia

Q. What term is used when a doctor gives drugs to a patient to relieve distressing symptoms even though he knows doing this may shorten the patient's life?

A. The principle of Double-Effect

Q. What type of euthanasia could be performed because a person has a certain illness or has reached a certain age?

A. Compulsory euthanasia

Q. What term is used when a coma patient's life support machine is switched off?

A. Involuntary euthanasia

Q. What term is used when a doctor gives drugs to a patient to relieve distressing symptoms even though he knows doing this may shorten the patient's life?

A. The principle of Double-Effect