

Dear Parents/Carers,

As you know, weather forecasts indicate that there is potential for snow fall tomorrow and Friday of this week. In the event of this happening you will be notified of any changes to school opening times on the school website www.stanwell.org. The website will also be updated early Friday morning to ensure you are informed if the school is open as usual.

Regards,

Stanwell School